Call for papers

Anales de la Universidad de Alicante. Historia Medieval
ISSN 0212-2480    ISSN 2695-9747

The journal Anales de la Universidad de Alicante. Historia Medieval informs that the next issue of the journal (number 23, year 2022) will be dedicated to a monographic entitled "International trade, maritime connectivity and port areas in the Late Middle Ages" coordinated by professors David Igual Luis (University of Castilla-La Mancha) and Juan Leonardo Soler Milla (University of Alicante). Persons interested in taking part in it, as well as in the miscellaneous and review section, should submit their paper before October 15 2021 to the journal's website (https://revistes.ua.es/medieval/about/submissions#onlineSubmissions). Inside the website, to send papers and reviews, will be necessary to go to the section "Online submissions", GO TO LOGIN or GO TO REGISTRATION, if it has not been done on previous occasions, and complete the data requested in the process of sending the paper or review. Registration and sign-in are required to submit papers online and to check the status of submissions. Academic peers will review the papers. The editorial decision will be communicated to the author via email within a maximum period of two months. More information on the form of submission and format of the papers can be found on the journal's website section "Authors Guidelines" (https://revistes.ua.es/medieval/about/submissions).

Kind regards,

José Vicente Cabezuelo Pliego, Juan Antonio Barrio Barrio (Management)
Juan Leonardo Soler, Miriam Parra Villaescusa (Secretary’s Office)
Medieval History Area. Department of Medieval History, Modern History and Historiographic Sciences and Techniques. University of Alicante (https://dhmmo.ua.es/)